STETSON HATTERS DEFEAT DAYTONA ALL-STARS

The Stetson Hatters defeated the Daytona All-Stars Saturday by a lopsided score of 44-0. Beginning with the initial kick-off the Hatters completely outclassed and out-played the Daytona boys in all phases of the game.

The game opened with the Hatter reserves complete, with one exception, in the line-up. Within the first two minutes the first touchdown was made by Courtney on an end run for 15 yards. In the second quarter Coach Allen thought it best that his first string men get a little exercise, so that they might not miss their daily workout. As soon as the first string men were called in things began to happen. On the very first play a touchdown was made by a pass from Covington to Whitnell. After that the spirit seemed to leave the Daytona boys and their goal was crossed almost at will.

Whitnell and his speed, coupled with his experience and knowledge of football, was, indeed, a formidable foe for the all-stars to cope with. Covington, of course, played his usual game which is saying a good deal. On the kick-off he booted the pill over the goal each time. Covington certainly has an educated toe for the kick-off.

Courtney was called out of the game early on account of his speed. It didn't seem right to let him carry the ball around the wings.

Teare tore his way through the Daytona line, dragging four or five of their men with him.

Ossinsky tossed the ball from the center position. We can't figure out where this guy belongs. He seems to play every position on the team like he had been at it for 40 years.

Hays, dean of the Metropolitan school of cats, was on duty Saturday. Tribble played his usual position, and played it well.

Selsley, our new guard, played a game that is certainly worthy of comment. The all-stars just quit trying to pull plays over his side of the line.

WANT TO HEAR A CONCERT?

Mrs. Marian Kenefick wishes to announce that there will be a concert by the members of her vocal classes on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the auditorium of Elizabeth Hall.

The Glee Club is doing lots these days. Preparations are under way for the trips. The boys are going up to Tallahassee and the girls are going to Gainesville to give the lonely boys there a chance to inspect what they are missing by not going to Stetson instead of Florida.

SIGMA NU NEWS

The Delta Mu chapter has been notified that during the past year their scholarship record was the highest of the 89 chapters which compose the Sigma Nu fraternity.

A large number of the Sigma Nus went to Winter Park last week-end to witness the Rollins-Southern game. Nell Lane took down a party in her car, including Martha McConnell, Mercedes Lloyd, Jack Teare, O. J. Walter and L. F. Boyle with Miss Courson as chaperone. A splendid time was had and Captain Boyle was able to pick up hints which will help him when he leads his team against Rollins on Thanksgiving Day.

Gordon Huie, of the class of '23, was a visitor at the House last Monday night.

Frank Hobson is expected back at Stetson at the opening of the winter term.

James Pollard, Alonzo Meadows, L. L. Smart and O. J. Walter, attended a dance at Daytona Beach last Thursday evening.

J. Howard Huie and James Pollard were in Astor during the week-end.

Ed Stone and Hall Shepherd will exchange departments next term, the former going to the Law School and the latter, who has completed his course in law, to the College of Liberal Arts.

The dance following the Florida-Stetson game was such a huge success that plans are already being made for a still larger and more powerful one following the game with Rollins. About a hundred and fifty people attended the last dance and all of two hundred are expected on Thanksgiving night.

Cox and Layton played their respective positions in the absence of Captain Boyle and Hargreaves. These two boys were partly the reason that Daytona was thrown for a loss so often.

Kennedy made a dashing run from the six inch line for the final touchdown. Kennedy's place is, at present, in the line, but he isn't so bad in the back-field.

Many others played a stellar game, but they go without mention. They always do.

Though it was rumored that Daytona was bringing two all-Southern men from West Point with them, they failed to show up. One man in the back-field was a sure gainer, but he was soon over-worked and was forced to retire.

We were not able to get the all-stars' line-up, but ours was as follows:

C.—Ossinsky.
R. G.—Tatum.
R. T.—Tribble.
R. E.—Cox.
L. G.—Silsby.
L. T.—Hays.
L. E.—Layton.
R. H.—Mortiz.
L. H.—Brobson.
Q.—Courtney.
F. B.—Hon.

ADAM AND EVA PERSONALLY DIRECTED BY MR. STOVER

Stetson is indeed fortunate in having a man of Mr. Stover's calibre as the head of the Department of Public Speaking. In the years that he has been connected with the University he has proven himself to be not only an instructor of high degree, but an able director of dramatic productions as well.

Mr. Stover has made the study of dramatic technique and interpretation, his life work. Mr. Stover is a graduate of the King School of Oratory, and before coming to Stetson had been connected with several well known colleges of the eastern part of the country. He began his dramatic work at Shepherd College, located in Shepherdstown, West Va. From this school he went to Union Seminary at New Berlin, Pa., following which he was for three years head of the department of public speaking in Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, Pa., coming to Stetson in 1908, where for the last 15 years he has been head of Dept. of Public Speaking and Oratory in Stetson University.

His first appearance in Chautauqua was with the Brockwaite people, a famous old Chautauqua organization of some ten or fifteen years ago. Following this he was for some years connected with the National Summer circuit. During this he also acted as instructor and director of Public Speaking in several well known northern summer schools. While at the present time he is, in addition to his work here at Stetson a member of the faculty of the University of Indiana summer school at Lake Wynona, Ind., where his ability as an entertainer and director has been most maborably received. While at Lake Wynona he also occupies a position of lecturer in the well known Rodenhaver training school.

The people of DeLand have for so long enjoyed the productions which have been given by the University dramatic club, and later the dramatic fraternity, that it is doubtful if they realize the high quality of his work as director. As an actor in the Dramatic Festival productions last year, and later as Petrechio in the annual Shakespearian play, his ability to live characters which he portrayed amply justified the high esteem with which his work in the dramatic world is received.

ADMIRAL SIMS PAYS A VISIT TO UNIVERSITY

Thursday, Nov. 15, about 4 p. m., Admiral Sims greeted the student body in the auditorium, as well as a large number of the town people, and made a few brief remarks.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION REORGANIZED

Foremost among the progressive and forward-looking steps taken by Stetson this year should be mentioned the re-organization and enlargement of the Department of Education.

The number of causes for the training of teachers has been more than doubled. The requirements for degrees for those majoring in Education, has been increased. This enlargement of the causes and hands required has made it necessary to employ an additional full time professor to handle the work.

In addition to the courses formerly offered in psychology, the history of education and public school methods and management, Stetson is now giving strong courses in State and County School Administration, Standard Tests and Measurements, High School Teaching and Administration, and the psychology and philosophy of education.

Stetson's educational department is now giving not only the courses necessary in the training of teachers for grade work and high school positions, but also such training as should be extremely helpful to students who are planning to hold administrative positions in our cities and counties.

The type of work which modern schools are demanding today requires special training for those who are to be responsible for all administrative duties. Trained Superintendents, Principals and Supervisors are needed everywhere.

Stetson is enlarged to meet the needs of Florida and her school teachers.

Normal and teachers' college training, including prescribed and elective studies from the professional courses in education and the regular courses in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences leading to the following degrees are offered: Licentiate of Instruction, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Philosophy and Master of Arts.

To provide proper facilities for the education of her boys and girls is the paramount duty of every democratic state. The rendering of efficient service in the field of instruction or supervision is sufficiently important to challenge the service of the strongest men and women of our American colleges.

PROFESSOR B. F. EZELL

Head of Department of Education

Professor Ezell was graduated from the Furman University, Greenville, S. C., in 1909, receiving his B. A. Degree.

He is now a graduate student for his Ph. D., at Columbia University, and has spent five summers in standard graduate work, in Northern and Southern Universities.

Prof. Ezell spent five years in work as Superintendent of City Schools in South Carolina, and eight years in the same work in Florida; three years in Sanford, and five years in DeLand. He is now Professor of

ALPHA XI NOTES

Alpha Xi's are surely proud of their "rats." Last week appropriate invitations in fraternity colors were received by all the old girls, inviting them to a party at the fraternity room Wednesday evening, Nov. 14th, at 6:15. The evening was full of surprises and fun. Covers were laid for 30, the tables being artistically decorated with double-blue and gold ribbons and pink roses.

A three-course dinner was served, during which the pledges entertained with music, songs, and several clever stunts. The biggest surprise was the presentation of a walnut desk to the fraternity by the pledges. Everyone enjoyed themselves immensely and consider the Alpha Xi Delta "rats" charming and clever hostesses.

"BACON BAT"

A most enjoyable "bacon bat" was given by Miss Hillis Carmean in her room on "Society El" on Friday evening after the game. Miss Brown, from Jacksonville, a sister of the Misses Thelma and Joyce Brown, was the honored guest. Lots of music, fun and good old Chaudoin "pep" made the party most successful. The happy recipients of Miss Hillis' hospitality were Ree Anderson, Leola King, Thelma and Joyce Brown, Dot Dietz, Marie Courson, Miss Brown, and Charlotte Farrington.

After a most perfect day, Saturday was brought to a fitting climax by Society El joining in a jollification in Ree Anderson's room and celebrating the victory of the day with a real party in true Hallowe'en style. Most delicious salad sandwiches, olives, pickles, cakes and hot chocolate were enjoyed by the guests. Among whom were the Misses Hillis Carmean, Charlotte Farrington, Thelma and Joyce Brown, Ree Courson, Dot Dietz, Leola King and Ree Anderson.

M. & M. CLUB

Mr. Landiss led a good meeting of M. and M. club last Tuesday night in the room over the library on the subject: "The Teachings of Christ." Mr. Chas. Koon started the program by giving the scripture reading. Mr. Ed Henderson gave some thoughts on the miracles of Christ, the Great Teacher. Mr. Alfred Youman ended the program with a brief, but nevertheless, scholarly treatise on the Church of God. Dr. Hulley is expected to address the club next week.

FLORIDA-STETSON FOOTBALL GAME ATMOSPHERE

Florida puts her first string men in. Three big huskies take off their sweater-shirts and step out on the field, then another, and then another. It was evident that Stetson was going too, good to suit the Florida coach, therefore the remaining first string men were sent in to join the already six first string men battling against the fiery Stetson team.

It is understood that only five of Florida's second team was on the field during the first quarter. Before the first quarter ended Florida had her first team on the field.

And then that second quarter which will not be forgotten soon by the Stetsonites, old and new, and the town and out-of-town supporters of Stetson. For the entire quarter, Stetson's team outplayed Florida's first team. Stetson came mighty close to scoring in this period, and once Whitnell did make an end run to a touchdown, to be called back because of holding in the line.

Most of us have experienced a feeling similar to this. For instance, when Florida's second string men were ferred to above, were turned loose to enter the game, it could be heard from Florida supporters on the sidelines, "Now watch Florida hold them" or "Now watch Florida go." But Florida did not hold them, nor did Florida go. Through the entire quarter Stetson generally held the ball, and outplayed Florida. That was the time for the good feeling, and the time to be proud of our football team.

Going back a little to chapel. Friday morning, before the game. Doctor Hulley announced at the conclusion of the chapel service that the cheer leaders, and other pep makers could have ten minutes to warm up their program for Saturday. Doctor said ten minutes, and then good-fortunately forgot and continued to forget to look at his watch. Although not so well organized the songs and cheers boomed along for a full 20 minutes. And the last five minutes certainly did warm up the cheers and songs program for Saturday. Some tag-cards had been printed in Green and White with the words on them, "Hatters Hold Florida." These were distributed to everyone. Following this the cheer leaders with several assistants, among them, Kirk and Bill Gunby, Miss Peek, and Mrs. Kenefick, all helped in putting over the peppest pep meeting of the year.

Dr. Hulley, our president, and Dr. Farris, our vice-president, remained on the chapel rostrum, and enjoyed all of it. It is hoped that more than a repetition of all this will hold forth prior to the Rollins game.

And then at 12:45 another cheer meeting was held. And then on Saturday before the game a parade, headed by the Stetson band, marched through town. On the parade's arrival, back to the athletic field, the crowd began to gather, and it surely did gather. All the parking space for cars inside the field was taken, and fortunately different sections of the University grounds had been set off as parking space for the overflow. This latter should be repeated for all big games. A long line of people could be seen at the entrance even many minutes after the game commenced.

It was a great game. Stetson needs a few more first string men the same as Florida or the same as all big teams. The Stetson men playing, showed good training and good coaching. They were fit and played a great game. The school is proud of the football players. Every man in that Florida game deserves praise. Fellows, you made us proud of you. Now, let's beat Rollins.

HATTER GRIDDERS MAKE HARD FIGHT AGAINST THE MIGHTY GATOR, BUT LOSE 27-0

The mighty Gator came, and saw, and conquered but not without knowing that he had been in a real football game. Report had it that the Gator intended to play the second stringers against the Hatters, but they must have changed their minds about that before many minutes had passed, as they soon shot in their full strength. The crowd was the largest which has been seen on the Stetson field in years, but it was an orderly one and showed a very sportsmanlike spirit. The Gator had plenty of followers from all over the state, almost as many as the Hatter, but they took their victory in good spirit with plenty of praise for the fight the Hatters put up. Also, the spirit of the Stetson followers was just as fair and sportsmanlike as that of the Gators. In fact, it would be hard to find any better spirit shown in any football game than was exhibited by the players of both sides and also the spectators. While a little rough playing came out on the part of both teams, it was no more than is always expected in every football game.

The Hatters lost but went down fighting to the last minutes of play and are not at all discouraged over the result. The Gators played heads-up football and intercepted two Hatter passes deep in Stetson territory, which no doubt cost the Hatters a couple of touchdowns. Regardless of this, the Hatters showed a classy air attack and made a number of good gains by the air route.

The game started off with the Hatters using all of their strength that they could muster. Captain Goofus was out of the game on account of an injury which no doubt hurt the Hatters altho his substitute played a good game. Layton played end in place of Goofus most of the game but it was the first game he had played at end and naturally he could not do his best work.

The game started with the Gators using part first and part second string men. By taking advantage of the breaks the Gators were able to march down the field for a touchdown. Brown kicked goal after five minutes of play. The Hatters started fighting then and soon got the ball. After a couple of stabs at the line Covington pulled a short end run for 11 yards and the Hatters first down

The Gator found the Hatter line and ends impregnable and the were forced to kick. The ball see-sawed back and forth in the first one team's hand and then another until the end of the first quarter. The ball had been mostly in Stetson's hands and in Gator territory after the first five minutes. At the end of the quarter the Gators sent in all of the varsity, Newton, Middlekauf and Jones, the three Gators the Hatter held and Newton kicked. Courtney caught it and made a nice return. On the next play Courtney went around the Gator's right end for 28 yards. After a couple of line thrusts Whitnell took the ball around the Gators' left end for 55 yards and placed the ball behind the goal line. The play was called back and Stetson penalized for holding. This was the biggest threat the Hatter gave to the Florida line during the game. For the rest of the half the Hatters held Florida even or better. Score at the end of the first half was, Florida 7; Stetson 0. The Hatters had made a great fight in the first half and deserve a world of credit for holding the Gators to one touchdown.

In the second half the Gators renewed strength and the weakening of the Hatter defense due to injuries took quickly on the Hatter team. Soon after the third quarter opened, Newton intercepted a pass and was downed in his tracks. The Gators were not to be denied however, and after a few plays carried it over for a touchdown. Score, Florida 14; Stetson 0. The Hatters received the kick-off, but could make no gain and White kicked. Stetson held the Gators and Newton kicked for Florida. Again the Hatter opened with passes and finally the Gators intercepted one. Again they started a march to the goal line which the green and white was unable to stop and ended in a touchdown. Florida failed to kick goal after touchdown. Score, Florida 20; Stetson 0. At the end of the third quarter the Gators yanked the varsity and sent in some of the reserves. The reserves started a drive which carried them to the Hatter two-yard line. Here Stetson showed a real fighting spirit and at the end of a three-try for the goal line the Gators had lost three yards and were on the five-yard line. The Gators had used Middlekauf on three consecutive plays in an effort to break the Hatter line. Stetson took the ball on the five-yard line. Covington made four yard over left tackle. Whitnell kicked 45 yards. Pomeroy went in for Florida. Using Pomeroy on short end runs and Middlekauf for line smashes the Gators carried the ball over for the last touchdown of the game. Florida kicked goal after touchdown. Score, Florida 27; Stetson 0.

Although the Hatters lost the game they acquitted themselves with glory and feel that they did well to hold the powerful Gator team as well as they did. Some of the boys were injured and will be out of the game for a few days, but the Hatters have no more games until the big game with Rollins on Thanksgiving and this should give them all time to recover from their injuries and be in the best of condition for the biggest game on the Hatter schedule. The Hatters are going to work now and learn more football before the game with the Rollins Tars and the Tars will go up against an even better football team than the one which the Gators stacked up against Saturday.

Although every man on the team played his best and gave all he had to hold the mighty Gator it seems that a few of the boys were outstanding and are due for special mention. Every man played hard and deserves a word of credit, but as is everything else, some are sure to stand out above the whole. Perhaps the next game the very ones who were so prominent in this game will step into the background and new ones will come forward. We sincerely trust that this will not be the case. Let those who stand in the limelight now continue to do so, and let those who do not so stand at the present, join them after the game with the Tars here on Thanksgiving. Let's have every man standing out head and shoulders above the Tar squad after the game on Nov. 28.

Covington, acting as captain for the Hatters in place of Goofus, who was out with injuries, played his usual heady and spectacular game. We will give Florida its Newtons and Jones, but let us have Covey is all we have to say. We claim Covey is as good as any man in the Florida backfield. While Covey could not gain much through the Florida line, he was almost always sure of a little gain through the Gator forwards and that is more than most backfield men have been able to do against the Gators.

Talking about our players and the lone runs and tricks that it seems that the run b Whitnell which placed the ball over the Florida goal line, although it did not count for a score, has been forgotten in most of the write-ups of the game we have seen. Whit's run was against the best that the Gators could put on the field against him and it was for fifty-five yards. On his journey down the field almost every man on the Gator team got their hands on Whit, but none kept them there long. Talking about fast backs, after Whit got by the Florida backs, they looked like they were running backwards and it was no fault of his that the run did not count.

What few chances Courtney had to carry the ball, he almost always gained and he made one of the prettiest runs of the game just before Whitnell's spectacular dash through the entire Gator team. Courtney came around the Gator right end for 28 yards and had only one man between him and the goal line. Courtney showed a world of speed on this dash and you can take it from us that none of the Gators would have run him down if he had gone by the last man. Courtney was a bright light light on the defense, breaking up play after play of the Gators and busting up many passes. He followed the ball like a hawk and every time it hit the ground Courtney was on top of it. He also snatched one pretty pass. It was a hard one to catch and the little back looked like he was in a circus trying the juggle act. He knocked it around in the air four or five times before he got hold of it, but he finally held on.

Boys, how about Doty in that line? Guess the Gators hit a stone wall when they run up against him. When a Gator back was thrown for a loss it was almost always Doty who was on top of him. Doty got a hard lick on the back of the head in the third quarter and really should not have been playing, but he showed the old fight and to get him off the field they would have to carry him off. Doty broke up play after play that the Gators made and they made mighty little gains through him.

Maybe Gus Hargreaves didn't stop those end runs of the Gators in the early part of the game. It didn't take the Gators long to find out they couldn't find any place to go around his end. On the first play the Gators run around his end he nailed the man for a loss. Gus also caught a couple of pretty passes. On one pass he came close to getting away, but was nailed by the last man between him and the goal line. Right after this Gus was badly hurt and had to be taken out in the second half. He will be ready for Rollins.

Some way we just can't forget that run of Whit's for 55 yards. He just naturally went through the entire Gator team without any interference. How he ever reached the goal line is a mystery, as he looked like he had stepped into a lak full of Gators who were nipping at him every step. Time after time it would seem that he was stopped, but he kept right on and reached the line. That wasn't against Gator reserves either. It was something Georgia Teach would have done if they could, but they couldn't.

Noticed quite a few of the Rollins players up at the game. No doubt they had almost the whole squad here. Wonder what the thought about the Hatters holding the Gator regulars to 13 points in two quarters when they scored 21 on the Tars in the first quarter. On the Dope the Hatters should beat the Tars here on Thanksgiving and they are going to do it. It is foolish to predict a score for that game, and we won't predict a score. We will be fool enough to say that we think the Hatters will beat the Tars by two touchdowns. How does that listen, Hatters? Don't fail me now, and make my great reputation (?)—as a critic look like ten cents. If we pick football winners like baseball, let's hope that for once we will get the prediction right. We picked the Yanks in 21 and 22 and they lost, but that didn't worry us as they came through in twenty-three. Guess a couple of years' time didn't make any difference. They got there at last. Don't wait three years to get the Tars, though let's get them this time and by more than two touchdowns if you can and personally we believe you can.

The Gators played a clean game of football and showed a sportsmanlike spirit. They are taught to tackle and tackle hard and that is the game. The Hatters did not hit their men as fiercely as the Gators. The Gators act like they mean to annihilate a man if they can just get their hands on him.

Pomeroy and Middlekauf were the backs which gave the Hatters the most trouble. Newton was troubled with his shoulder and was watched closely. He never got away for any great gains. Neither did Jones show any spectacular football. Pomeroy and Middlekauf did enough to make up for both of them.

All right, Hatters, get together now and forget all about what has happened and look to the future. Every student in school who has the real spirit is proud of your fight against the Gators and expect you to turn the Tars back on Thanksgiving Day with a score. LICK THE ROLLINS TARS.

We picked the Yanks in 21 and 22 and they lost, but that didn't worry us as they came through in twenty-three. Guess a couple of years' time didn't make any difference. They got there at last. Don't wait three years to get the Tars, though let's get them this time and by more than two touchdowns if you can and personally we believe you can.

The Gators played a clean game of football and showed a sportsmanlike spirit. They are taught to tackle and tackle hard and that is the game. The Hatters did not hit their men as fiercely as the Gators. The Gators act like they mean to annihilate a man if they can just get their hands on him.

Pomeroy and Middlekauf were the backs which gave the Hatters the most trouble. Newton was troubled with his shoulder and was watched closely. He never got away for any great gains. Neither did Jones show any spectacular football. Pomeroy and Middlekauf did enough to make up for both of them.

All right, Hatters, get together now and forget all about what has happened and look to the future. Every student in school who has the real spirit is proud of your fight against the Gators and expect you to turn the Tars back on Thanksgiving Day with a score. LICK THE ROLLINS TARS.

PHI KAPPA PHI NEWS NOTES

Mr. Henry Mullens and party motored to Winter Park Monday in some one's big Essex to see the big game.

It was very generous of Doug King to take that party of girls to Sanford Monday to see the game. Although badly crippled by his absence from the lineup, Sanford managed to squeeze out a win.

Mr. Robert Roden was visited by his mother, who passed through on her way north last Wednesday. In looking through his pockets after her departure, he mysteriously discovered among some other things, a handsome-appearing yellow-back. Owner is out of luck, as it is all gone now.

Who is the latest addition to Meade Baker's harem?

Mr. Charlie Costar attended the Rollins-Southern game last Monday. Who is she? B. Lambert.

Bob Roden's war-cry, "Glutton's table or bust."

We haven't heard Mr. Fluhart yet, but—he gave a very fine talk.

The Collegiate will be given away free until after the Stetson-Rollins game on Thanksgiving. Let's see—Thanksgiving comes after Christmas, doesn't it, fellows?

DeLand Hall wishes it stated that Charlie Bossert seems to be spending all of his time before the mirror.

Mr. Jennings has finally reformed and decided to study. Thursday night he borrowed a dictionary and kept it for three hours.

The Phi Kappa Phi boys received a visit Friday from Mr. John Barnett, a brother Pi Kapp from Georgia Tech.

The members and pledges of Pi Kappa hailing from Sanford, all went home for the week-end.

Mr. Kerfott Bryant also attended the game at Winter Park last Monday.

STETSON GIRLS DEFEAT SEABREEZE HIGH SCHOOL

The Stetson girls' basketball team won their second game of the season Friday night when they defeated the Seabreeze high school team on the Stetson court in one of the hardest fought games played in years. The game was hard fought, but was remarkably clear of any rough work on the part of either team. A little came out in the early part of the game, but this was soon stopped.

The Eulalians jumped into the lead in less than 15 seconds after the game started. The ball was thrown up in center and traveled directly to the forward waiting under the basket for the first shot of the game. Captain Jennings at forward made the basket and the score was Stetson, two and Seabreeze nothing. This looked like the way the teams of a few years started off and it seemed that the girls were going right that night. This did prove to be true however, as they began to miss basket after basket, while the Seabreeze team was getting many chances to throw fouls,

POET DISCOVERED AT STETSON

The Editor claims the honor of having discovered the greatest poet of the age. This rhymor of words was discovered only last Friday night. At the time of the discovery he was at the height of his glory expounding his verse to the empty ears of the Editor, who was at the time deeply engrossed in his thoughts (deep ones.) In order to get rid of this wonderful poet, he was told to go and put some of his verse on paper, so that the fruits of his masterful mind not be lost to the world. Joyously he trotted to his typewriter and turned out the bunk that you may read in the below, if you have the nerve:

THE COLLEGE PAPER

This college paper, it gives me a pain,

It lies and lies, and lies again.

The editor's mind is lost like a sailor on a raft.

He runs the darned paper with strangle hold graft.

If he reads this poem he'll sure call me a liar,

But I'll use his punk papers to build a good fire.

What is in it I ask you, and you have no reply,

You'll sit around silent and maybe by and bye

A thought will come and you'll laud the paper to the sky.

Some one may say to me, Why look here old man,

Those poor student editors are doing the best they can,

Don't be too hasty in our judgment of them,

They are on the first round of the ladder of success,

And are worthy to be called men—they have faith in the college

Which harbors them and puts them next to knowledge,

Suppose, instead of knocking, that you give them a boost

Cheer those boys on and they just can't lose.

Let's all get behind them with school spirit that's strong

And help to put the College paper in the niche where it belongs.

Say that to me, and I know my heart has turned for the best.

And we'll all back the paper and keep it from going West.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PLAY

No commentator upon American Drama today could fail to note the significance of the comparatively recent growth of amateur dramatics in the colleges and universities of this country. From the veriest novelty, a foolish diversion to be winked at, an annual moneymaker for the Seniors, a conventional, long standing custom, the college play has developed thru successive stages into a more or less respected campus club or even into a department of dramatic art. And everyone of us who has seen this happen and who is or has been engaged in some phase of it, know that the college drama has only begun to grow and that it will soon become a mighty influence. The spirit of amateur dramatics in college should be of that same spirit which has always characterized the best amateurs of the past. First and last it should be the spirit of play for as we shall later learn "play" is the very essence of Drama.

ADAM AND EVA ROYALTY PLAY

The latest production of George Middleton and Guy Bolton, "Adam and Eva", is not a play which has had its day, and released from the list of royalty plays and has been turned over to the amateur theatrical world for its use, as is the case in so many of the amateur plays given by colleges and societies. On the other hand this is a modern play which would have tied the score, if they had been successful. At last Seabreeze caged a foul and the score was closer. Again the Eulalians showed a little spirit and made a basket, making the score four to one. At the end of the first half the score was 6-3.

In the second half, the Eulalians as a whole, played much better basketball, but the Seabreeze girls also played much better and the Eulalians were only able to score two points in the entire half and these were made in the last two minutes. The Seabreeze girls caged two baskets for three points, one of their shots only counting one point. Thus the score at the end of the game was 8-6.

Laura Buck, at running center, for the Eulalians, played a great game and was the outstanding player of the night. She saved the Eulalians time after time by her playing in center.

which in the spicy, rippling action which prevails in the play from beginning to end, has just as much interest as it did at the time of its first appearance some three years ago. In fact, at the present time the play is being used as a drawing card at the opening performances of some of the best known theatrical companies in the South, among which might be mentioned the Forsyth Players of Atlanta, the Tranon Players of New Orleans, and the Duval Players of Jacksonville, Fla.

In bringing this attraction to DeLand, Theta Alpha Phi is assuming the responsibility for the payment of the royalty privilege of something like sixty dollars. We feel assured, that in the selection of the cast, and the high quality of the material chosen that all time, money, and talent can do towards making a play successful is going into Adam and Eva, the initial production of the 1923-24 season.

CAMPUS GOSSIP

Well, another victory for Stetson. DeLand High also won and made it a gala day for DeLand. Joyce Bowen's Kissimmee team showed the effects of good coaching. Joyce says that his team was off, something was the matter, for this same team held the fast Sanford High team to a 14 to 12 score. Better luck next time Joyce. All the Stetson team and students wish Joce luck.

The Stetson scrubs got to show their stuff and you should have seen the feathers fly. Whitnell was back in form. Courtney made some good gains. The game from all aspects was a clean and hard fought game, though the Hatters had them out-classed.

Even Stacom Kennedy came in for his share of the glory. Stacom made himself a touchdown. Chapee says he won't take a hundred dollars for it. True, eh?

Did you notice Stetson's new tackle and who do you suppose it was? None other than Red Silsby, the man who had so much to do with the Hatters' defeat at the hands of Rollins last year. Welcome, here, Red, we hope your stay will be long and successful.

Not many students went home this week-end. All are waiting for Thanksgiving.

The lights in the different dormitories are burning through the wee hours and some of our industrious students are already preparing for those fatal exams. Curses and some more.

A good lively spirit is being shown in the dining room a littHRDRDLU in the dining room. A little more of this kind of spirit on the campus and nothing could be finer.

The Hatters are peacefully waiting for the arrival of Rollins. Much interest is being centered on this game, as the outcome decides the second best team in the state. Say, let's have some more of that good old Stetson pep that was so numerous in the Southern and Florida games. Let's show Rollins what school pep really is. Let's put this game over and put it over big. Remember it's all for the old school.

Daughter: "Oh, papa, what is your birthstone?"

THE RAT TRAP

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Today I sing of a cannibal king
Who ruled on a lonely isle, Where the ick birds chirped and the aulicks twirled
In ancient cannibal style.
And it happened one day that a ship lost its way
And was wrecked on this dismal place,
And the cannibals bared their teeth and stared
At the sight of a white man's face.
Well, one of the few that were saved from the crew
Was a sailor named Bill McCork, Who loved nothing so well as to sit and tell
Of the wonders of great New York.
And as soon as he found he had reached solid ground
And saw the ickng standing near
He started to talk to the bloomin' auk,
Tales that were wondrous to hear.
Of subways and L's and mammoth hotels
And the various sights of the town
But he made special mention and called much attention To the ladies who walked up and down,
Parading the highways and strolling the byways—Peaches, and knockouts and queens.
Then the king made a sign, in the midst of his line
And said, "Im ok mak tuk meens."
And in answer there came a dusky young dame
And went and stood by his side.
He beamed with delight at the beautiful sight,
The cannibal chieftain's bride.
Poor Bill had to start at her clothes and her hair
And the way she used her eyes
And when she grew bolder and wiggles one shoulder
He actually was dumb with surprise.
But the king's smile was wide as he looked at his bride
And back again at McCork.
All of which simply means that not all the queens * Live in the great New York.

ANSWER TO CORRESPONDENCE

Nov. 20, 1923.
Miss R. E. Leef,
City,
Dear Madam:
In reply to yours of the 25th ult., would advise that Webster's Collegiate Dictionary was not one of our publications. We carry nothing collegiate in stock. We have not time for such trifles, but limit our publications to more conservative remarks.
However, we would suggest the following as references on the matter:

ditto. Drops small handkerchief.
Comedian winks at audience before picking up ditto. Cue for audience to laugh.)
Man—"Sal, little one, did you drop this?"
Lady—"If I did, it's none of your business. ((Knocks man through scenery. Cue for audience to laugh).
I'll have you understand I'm a lady."
Man—"Aw, gwan." ((Both laugh heartily at this.) Lad—"Say, I heard a good one last night." Man—"You don't say. What is it?"
Lady—"It's a good one. I heard a Stetson Prof. give it." Man—"Well, don't keep me in suspense. Tell it, please." Lady—"All right. Wh yis the earth like a rubber ball? It's a hard one, I'll tell you."
Man—"Why— is — the — earth like — a — rubber ball —? That's got me. Why is it?" Lad—"The earth is like a rubber ball—because it's round!"
(Both laugh heartily and the audience joins them.) At this time the curtain falls with a crash and the orchestra crashes into "Pick Me Up and Lay Me Down in Dear Old Dixie," as the audience with wild cheers begins to leave the theatre.)

POSSIBILITIES OF THE COLLEGE P L A Y

There has always been and quite likely always will be, something about the amateur performances in college plays or for that matter any others of a similar nature, that real enjoyment of the play which some have called 'the robust enjoyment of playing.' Usually the ultimate aim of those taking part in well directed amateur plays is quite different from the attitude of the professional actor. For dramatics in college are usually pursued for the love of the art. This gives to the college production a fresh contact with life in all of its contagious every day features.
Of the different types of actors to be found in the college drama you will be more apt to see interpretations in which the parts portrayed are done so out of sheer love of the work than in any other class of play being presented today. Adam and Eva by nature, is well suited to the amateur needs for the thread of the plot is one around which the average American family of wealth is, unfortunately, in this day, very apt to be found. The pertinent truths of the necessity for thrill were never needed as badly as they are today. In developing the plot of the play, the authors, Middleton and Bolton are really only giving expression to the everyday currents in the family life of America which may even now be flowing before our very door.

Comedy has always been difficult to use successfully, and good comedies must have a theme, and that is what the authors of Adam and Eva have given their play. We can readily visualize a situation in which the father, a self-made man of wealth, is disgusted with the careless way in which his family use the money he has earned through hard labor. The hero of the play, Adam, offers to the father, driven desperate by conditions in his home a welcome means of escape, and Adam Smith, as the make believe father is left, on a restricted allowance to act as father to this grown up family of "wasters," In Eva the heroine of the story are the latent qualities which we delight to associate with our ideal American manhood or womanhood. Who faced by reality, in this case the "fake" failure of her father, and his financial ruin not only Eva, but the whole family, including even the chronic lounger, Uncle Horace, cheerfully shoulder their respective parts of the family obligations. Of course the comedy has a happy ending and you would be disappointed if it didn't have. Thus it is that the possibilities of Adam and Eva have awakened in the theatre going public a sympathetic chord, and they have in turn honored the play by according to it one of the most successful runs ever known on Broadway, a country-wide popularity as a moving picture production, and its consequent showing to thousands of audiences from coast to coast.

HERMOINE

O wronged and suffering lady who dost feel
The pangs of injured pride and innocence Deprived of husband, child, and forced to kneel
In dungeon darkness trembling in suspense.
Twas jealousy, not guilt, that sent thee there,
And filled the silly king with love's despite;
Sweet Virtue's crown thou still dost fittly wear, Unparalleled in robes of spotless white.

Some hatred born of envy of thy grace
Has urged the fates such enmity to rouse,
And turned to stone the husband's heart and face,
Forgetful of his duty and his vows.

Spurred on by jealous anger's poisoned goad, Leontes tears the jewel from his crown,
And spurns its precious beauty as a toad,
And bids his weeping minions beat it down.

Thy sorrow renders thee the more agust,
Thy bearing hath the grandeur of a queen, Though slander slay thee smitten to the dust,
Thy image lifts majestic o'er the scene.

MIRANDA

A subtle essence floating earthward seems Miranda. For before one's wondering eyes
No moon-bright crystal river of a dream
More radiance brought an earthly paradise.

O bright ethereal spirit of the air,
That thou shouldst bless our dear enchanted earth!
And arch the rainbow o'er us everywhere
With light and love and joy and tears and mirth.

The air made vocal by thy fairy tread,
That startles into song the pixy fay,
Is trembling with sweet music round thy head,
And floats in rippling measures far away.

Ideal grace no higher heights could reach In Shakespeare's art. Yea, all the judges grant Thy virtues match perfection each to each,
And all a single glorious whole enchant.

The drama's potency thou art, a dream,
A cast of mistaken identity the whose charm Creates romantic atmospheres that seem To cast a spell and strike the critic's arm.

Thou art a living thread the gods un-wound
From thy most royal father Prospero,
Who made the hills and valleys far resound
With music of a day long, long ago.

And Ferdinand doth bless his eyes
by thee,
And Ariel waits to hear thy loved command,
And "vext Bermoothes" comes at last to be A fairy Eden blooming near at hand.

TRI DELTA NOTES

The Tri Delta chapter of Stetson University entertained with a tea
Thursday afternoon, from 4 to 6, in their fraternity rooms. This affair was given in honor of the patronesses of the chapter. Other honor guests were Dr. Allen, Misses Margaret Bow, Rebecca Stuart and Isabel Tate. At this time the Tri Delta pledges had the pleasure of meeting their patronesses, and the afternoon was enjoyed by all who were present.

PHI SIGMA ETA

A pleasant evening and a tastefully arranged dinner was enjoyed Tuesday evening by the members of the Phi Sigma Eta. The affair was very informal and took place at the Inglehart residence.

Several short talks were made, chief among them being a very enlightening and beneficial talk by Mr.
E. L. Mickle on "The Federal Reserve System." Mr. Mickle outlined the aim and purpose of the Federal Reserve System and imparted considerable practical information on this subject that would be difficult to secure from any academic source.
Among the others who favored the assembly with some well chosen remarks, were Mr. Doyle, Mr. Anson and Mr. Marvin.

Professor Mickle spoke a few words concerning the pre-requisites to success, emphasizing Determination and Perseverance.

Several humorous stories were related, one that was especially enjoyed, having to do with an English-man's attempt at American colloquisms, savored greatly of the golf link.

"Sure-Fit" is a cap with a high average in class room exercises

Perhaps we might better say Inter-Class Room Exercises. We mean the jog in the rain between Econ B.1 and Logic F.4.
It will rain, these Spring days, and the faculty will insist that you attend class, even if you have to get wet to do so.

This is a cap you can "let out" when the water contracts it, and "take in" when it dries and expands. Besides you can have it in waterproofed style to keep your head dry.

Aside from these features, it's a cap that can stand on its own merits, stylish and good-looking. The only ordinary thing about it is its price—there is no extra charge for the features.

MYSTERIOUS SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL MEETS

Wednesday night was held a regular meeting of the School for Scandal which was recently organized. The society is pleased to announce the following pledges: Misses ? ? ? and Messrs. ? ? and ? . The School for Scandal is growing rapidly and has made plans for a strenuous year. It wishes to cooperate with the University in suppression of dangerous practices and hopes to see 25 students shipped by Christmas. The S. for S. chose for their colors, dark black and light white. The pledge pins will be here as soon as the ten cent store can order them. It was reported that there was a movement on foot by some of the wrong-doers to attack this society in various ways and for this reason two barrels of tar and a bale of feathers have been ordered.

Wednesday evening the officers of the society met and passed judgment upon some fresh scandal which had been unearthed in the last few days, the essence of which was not good, and we hate to publish it, but duty comes first with us. Cast your optics on this:

Who was the young lady who had a date with a boy in the library, and when he did not show up, she sent two other men out to locate him?

Who are the men who keep their girls in Tallahassee, so as to two-time them, and send for them occasionally?

Who is the young man that brought a Chaudoin girl a sheet of music entitled: "Kiss Me Again?" Did he mean it?

Who is the college girl who is interested in a law student and for some unknown reason signed up for one law subject next term?

Who are the two football men that shook hands over the agreement to raise a crop of face-grass over their mouths? Was it to discourage the ladies?

Who is the young lady who refuses strolling privileges in the winter time because the strolling hour comes after dark in that season?

Who are the two girls who went to Dreka's last Thursday afternoon to each buy goods for a dress, and then quarrel over a piece of Blue Jersey which they both wanted to buy? The question is, who is the young man that favors Blue Jersey?

Some girls recently remarked, "When _____ looks natural, he's as ugly as sin, but when he smiles, he's just adorable." Three guesses—who is he?

Who is the girl that apparently reports to her Public Speaking class for the express purpose of holding her nearest neighbor's hand. This is most heinous.

The reporters for the School for Scandal are right on the job. If you do not believe it, do something terrible and see how soon we get it. THIS MEANS YOU.

PHI KAPPA DELTA NOTES

Brother Bill Gardner of Daytona, was a visitor at the house this last week. He came over Wednesday night to attend fraternity meeting and was well pleased with the progress that the chapter is making.

Three men from the University of Florida stayed over at the house Saturday night after the game. They were Coach Sebring, Manager Frank Adams, and Joe Cops, who is publicity man over at the University. The men spent the night at the chapter house, and left for Gainesville at ten o'clock Sunday morning. Coach Sebring was very loud in his praise for our football team, and stated that in spite of the difficult schedule that the Gators have got, that the game was one of the hardest they have gone through this season. Florida gives Stetson credit for having a real, hard-hitting, clean playing football team, and one which they were proud to beat.

Armistice Day marked a general exodus of Phi Kappas towards Winter Park to see the Rollins-Southern football game.

Professor Mickle took his family and Mr. Louis Ossinsky down, and reported that his only trouble was in trying to see the football game, because of the dust.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gunby, Misses Persis Burns, Mary Tribble, and Mr. Bill Hardin went down as the guests of Mr. Steve Marvin in the famous "Marvin Car". The party had supper in Orlando after the game, and returned the young ladies to Chaudoin at eight-thirty. A dandy time was had by all and Bill Gunby was in the heights of his glory.

Ray Anson and Steve Crombie spent the week-end at Ray's home in Orlando. They bumbled around all week-end, and their only accomplishment was the witnessing of the Rollins-Southern battle. They left Orlando by request.

Charlie Leonard flivvered to Lake City last Friday. We don't know who he went, but those curious may find out by questioning Kirk Gunby of the Sig house, who accompanied him. They have been sworn off and declare that they will wait till they get a car that will run without the motor falling out before they attempt the trip again. The old Ford just couldn't stand the gaff.

Saturday night Rats Brakmann and Leonard hoisted sail for Winter Haven, where they spend the remainder of the week-end. They reported a strong week-end, and arrived back on the scene on Tuesday.

Bill Hardin has declared himself as being off of "Skirts" for the rest of his life. Too many bad checks—poor boy.

Brothers Harry Amidon and Ed Beebe spent Thursday and Friday visiting the boys at the chapter house. They report that the ice business in Hollywood is bum and getting better.

Buddy Rasco went to Tavares on Armistice Day. He refereed the DeLand-Orlando game there that afternoon, and in spite of the fact, Orlando won. Buddy said that he did his best to keep the score down, tho.

Gus Dunn is seen strolling down West Minnesota Avenue very often of late. We won't give her name, as it might be embarrassing to his wife and small family back home. We accuse Gus of leading a double life. He still gets the special delivery letters, tho.

Graham King has become almost a regular "Star Boarder" at Chaudoin, and there is a Re(ason).

We are all wondering where Jake Edmund's frat pin is. Come on, now Jake, where is it?

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SUNDAY SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

Do you know that the Baptist young people of Stetson and of DeLand meet every Sunday morning at 9:45 in Stetson auditorium for Sunday School Services? Well, they do, and you are invited to be present, beginning with this next Sunday unless you are already affiliated with some other class or Sunday school. Every student of Baptist preference should be there.

At this time and place the boys and girls meet together for the opening exercises. The music is accompanied by the Baptist orchestra under the direction of Donald Faulkner, who has made himself such a large place in the musical life of the community. In addition to this there are special numbers given every Sunday. Also, the orchestra begins playing at 9:30. Come early and get the contribution the orchestra has to offer.

We would give special invitation to the boys of DeLand and Stetson University to meet with the Young Men's class which meets in room 5 of Elizabeth Hall, immediately after the opening exercises are finished. The class is composed of a group of lively young men with a noble purpose in their heart and sits under the capable instruction of Prof. Garwood who always has good spiritual food. The class has engaged in a contest for attendance and need the assistance of every young man who should be there, which includes all who are not enlisted somewhere else.

Don't forget it. Stetson auditorium, at 9:45 every Sunday. Orchestra begins playing at 9:30. Class meets in room 5 immediately after opening exercises have been completed. We invite you.

THE BARNEY GOOGLE CLUB

wishes to announce the pledging of Miss Minna Cunningham and Miss Kat, Hunter. We are proud of our rats and we are sure they will live down to the standards of the organization to the worst of their ability. If these young ladies can fail to make their grades this term, they will be initiated before Xmas. All alumnae and honorary members are invited to be present on this happy occasion, which we guarantee will be a source of delight to the onlookers.

CHAUDOIN CHIPS

A case of mistaken identity the other morning put an end to Ruth Jennings' vocal aspirations.—Chips.

Speaking of fly-away locks—did anybody see Mina at breakfast Wednesday morning?—Chips.

Great excitement at the football table yesterday—all over one little fly!—Chips.

When you—
Overslept breakfast,
And forgot to do that assignment,
And no matter how long you looked,
You couldn't find any mail,
And there was tapiocha for dinner—
And hot dogs for supper—
And just as you were getting ready to turn in—you were informed that Student Council wanted you—
And then your strolling privileges took wings and flew away!

Well, say!! Isn't it a H—!! of a feeling?—Chips.

Some of the law students wonder why one of the ministerial students is anxious to take law!—Chips.

Peculiar ice cream we are having in dining room now, at least the kind that Potatoes likes.—Chips.

The rats who have been asking Leola for special permissions are wondering if she gave Jake the same answer that she gives them; which is as follows: "Jake, er—I don't think so—er—wait a minute— Well—I guess so this time—but please don't—ask me again. You know what an embarrassing position this puts me in."

A group of brilliant Juniors and Seniors on the back row of Psychology class had quite an exciting discussion over the location of the city of Duluth. Slat, the veteran of Dean Carson's history department, declares Duluth to be in Wisconsin. Ree thinks it is in Mich. Flossie is quite sure it is in Texas. Thomas hasn't the least idea where it is. He says he hasn't been there. We suggest that a course in Geography be added to the curriculum.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

During the week just past, the Y. W. C. A. conducted the World Fellowship Week of Prayer. Every evening in Chaudoin, at the time usually set aside for prayers, the Y. W. C. A. held a proper service, dealing with different phases of Christian life, prayers being offered at these meetings, for Christian activities and organizations in this country, and for Christian work in foreign fields. These services were an inspiration to all who attended them.

At the regular Y. W. C. A. meeting next Thursday evening, the subject will be: "The Freshman Commission." Girls, the Y. W. C. A. is yours. Are you making the most of your opportunities? You can get no more out of anything than you put into it. What are you putting into the Y. W. C. A.? Every girl has an active part to play. Have you found yours?

ADDITION TO ART TREASURES

Finding of Portrait of Stradivarius, Great Violin Maker, Has Stirred Collectors Everywhere.

A portrait of Stradivarius has been found. No picture of the great master had ever been identified and his face has remained a mystery for nearly 200 years. The portrait, which the experts who have so far examined it declare genuine, has come into the possession of a Cremona piano maker, who has always had the greatest interest in Stradivarius. He found the portrait in the possession of a certain professor, who had bought it from a Geneva antiquary but who kept its existence secret. The portrait, signed by the painter Gialdini, bears the name of the maestro and the date 1691. Stradivarius is portrayed as a stern Cromwellian type, with flashing dark eyes and flowing hair. He is shown holding one of his famous violins against his breast. The interior evidence of the painting all corresponds to the contemporary descriptions of Stradivarius, none of which have been in harmony with various paintings which have wrongly been thought to represent the great violin maker.

May Happen.

"Can we ever have thought transferred?"
"Radio may bring it about."
"Eh?"
"If the girls can arrange their hair in suitable wave lengths."

IN HER DEFENSE

"I don't like Addie Adder. She's two-faced."

"She never impressed me that way. I always thought it was the same old face with a different makeup."

It Will End Up the Same.

"So your son will not become an aviator after all?"
"No, he's taking up chemistry now."
"Ah, eventually he'll fly in the air anyway."

The Test.

Hub—I spend all my money on you.
Ne man can do more than that.
Pouting Wife—If you really loved me you'd be willing to run into debt for me.

YOU SIMPLY HATE TO LEAVE

even after you have long since finished your dinner at this restaurant. The surroundings are so pleasant, the service so courteous, the memory of the dinner so pleasant, you love to linger and enjoy a little quiet talk. That sound tempting? Well, come and enjoy the reality.
